House Infusions

Vodka: Lemongrass, Thai lime leaf, Maple, Thai chili-lime

Gin: Goji berry green tea

Irish whiskey: Chamomile

Tequila: Habanero

Bar Features

Foursquare Distillery 'Premise' Single Blended Rum: Aged for 3 years in ex-bourbon casks and an additional 7 years in ex-sherry casks. Layers of sherry, dried fruit, vanilla and citrus give way to a delicate, dry finish. We recommend 'Premise' neat or with ice!

The Bruery 'Trade Winds' Belgian-style Tripel: A Belgian-style Golden Ale with Southeast Asian inspiration. Brewed with rice in place of a more traditional Belgian candi sugar to lighten the body and increase the gravity as well as Thai basil for fragrance and spice. Effervescent, aromatic, light bodied and refreshing. 750ml.

Pairing suggestions: Seared Big-Eye Tuna, Lemongrass Chicken

Spirits of Mexico - Tasting Flight

3 FOR $29

1) Sotol Hacienda Añejo Oro Puro: Sotol translated 'desert spoon' is a spirit similar to tequila harvested from a plant of the same name. It primarily comes from northern Mexico with origins (pre-Columbus) in Chihuahua. The government of Mexico backing big business, such as tequila producers, historically has outlawed Sotol production and it wasn't until the 90's that it began to get licensing. It has a piña similar to agave but with waxy leaves that don't produce sap. A typical Blue Weber Agave plant for tequila is 6-8 years old and yields 6 liters. Sotol typically matures 12-20 years and yields 1 liter per plant. It is also has other limitations like a reproductive system requiring wild cross-pollination and its prone to attacks from rodents. It shows distinctive terroir qualities; it taste like what it brings in. It can often be distilled with spices, nuts, and even beef. Some examples will have a piece of meat (possibly even from a snake) in the bottle. Don't worry; no meat here. This one is triple distilled, aged in barrel 2 years and contains gold flakes! It is considered by many to be the best in the market.

2) Del Maguey Tobala mezcal: Very rare mezcal from 8,200 feet up in the mountains of Oaxaca. It will only grow at this elevation and requires shade from the Oak trees. The Tobala is believed to be the original maguey. It only yields an eighth the production of other magueys such as Blue Weber. Because of this and its microclimate, the government only allows it to be harvested one month of the year. They only produce 400 liters per year and the villagers drink most of it themselves. The nose has sweet tropical fruit, which is reflected on the palate along with cinnamon spice.

3) Patron '7 Años' Extra Añejo tequila: Patrón's Master Distiller Francisco Alcaraz states "In my 40 years in the tequila industry, I've never seen a tequila aged this long taste this good. This is equivalent to a rare 50 year old scotch."
